Report and photos of the Workshop

As India, nation of Philosophy goes through a significant transition and a process of rediscovering and redefining her own way – a deeper way of being, it is important to ask some key questions. What is the nature of this Indian Philosophy? What does it mean for the future of India and the world? And in what ways is Sri Aurobindo one of the key forces behind or leading this Indian Philosophy?

Some of these questions were addressed in a Workshop on the eve of Celebration of World Philosophy Day in this occasion Prof Basalingappa Aravalad talks about the contribution of Shri Aurobindo towards the socio-political philosophy in the workshop titled "Shri Aurobindo: Socio-Political Philosophy" organised on March 17, 2025, at KLE Society's Arts and Commerce College, Gadag. The event was attended by about 160 participants.

Prof Basalingappa Aravalad opened his lecture with a brief general introduction to the Philosophy of India and the unique and distinct spiritual character of Indian Philosophy and Sri Aurobindo's larger vision for Indian spirituality and humanity and the world. Quoting some of the key insights from Sri Aurobindo's essays on Philosophy he highlighted how Sri Aurobindo's emphasis on the "recovery of the old spiritual knowledge and experience in all its splendour, depth and fullness" Lastly He spoke about The three corner stones of Indian philosophy are Gnyana (Knowledge), Bhakti (Devotion) and Karma (Work ethics) and how these are made effect on human thinking.
